PUBLICAN PARTY FACES SERIOUS SPLIT

Hopes of the G. O. P. Electing a Majority of the Next Congress.

(By Tav., Special Staff Correspodent of This Newspaper.)

OINES, Iowa, Nov. 12.—What, opinion, will be the outcome of sent split in the Republican two weeks I have been indus- putting this query to recogniz- ical authorities in the "insurg- tates—Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, ta and Wisconsin. The harv- been a multiplicity of opin- ophecies and convictions. of the Middle Westerners om I conversed predicted that factions would be working in double harness again be- next Presidential election und. "The Republicans are compromise, once the pri- are over," was the sentiment class of political prophets. appeared strongly convinced third party would develop out refusal of twenty members of se and seven members of the to vote for the Republican tariff bill. of those whom I interviewed admitted being "on the fence." id that this situation was one most interesting that had de- in politics in years, and that they had heard much discus- the subject, they were unable to any conclusion as to the outcome of the most formidable crisis that has threatened the national Republican machine in a decade.

On one feature of the situation nearly all agree: That the much-boasted solidarity of the G. O. P. is at present, at least, in a precarious condition, and that as a result the Congressional elections next fall are almost certain to send a Democratic majority to the lower House of Congress.

A prominent Republican of Lawrence, Kans., who had evidently given much thought to the subject and showed himself to be well posted on national affairs, summed up the situation in a manner interesting enough to make it worth repeating verbatim.

"The problem is," he said, "will a third party result from the present disagreement between the progressive and standpat factions of the Republican party? In my opinion, the key to the solution of that problem is the bitterness that has developed between the progressives and standpatters. The Republicans are great on compromise for the good of the party. They might compromise on the proper amount of tariff to be levied on this or that article, inasmuch as they all claim to be protectionists. But the big question is: Has the feud spirit become so bitter that the progressives and standpatters will refuse to forgive and forget. Will a Cummins work harmoniously with an Aldrich? Will a LaFollette ever forgive a Snoot?

"I do not believe that the progressives can ever dominate the Republican party. Therefore if the enmity keeps up, I believe it will spell a third party, in time.

"But if the progressive leaders compromise with the element now in control of the party, it will mean good bye to the prospects of a new party. In that event, I can not conceive that all of the present following of the progressives will follow peacefully back to the Republican banner. In my opinion many who have been sympathising with the progressive leaders will follow them back to the old party, but another faction of the progressives' followers will go over to the Democrats. To be frank, the prospects of Republican success in either the approaching Congressional elections or even the next Presidential election are not as bright as they might be. The insurgents have accomplished considerable harm for the party, any way you can figure it."

State Democratic Committeeman Reed of Ottumwa, Iowa, expressed the opinion that a new party would not result from the split in the Republican party, but that eventually some of the insurgents would bolt the Republican party for Democracy.

"When Senator Cummins sees there is no possible chance to secure the reform measures he is working for at the hands of the corporation controlled Republican party," said Mr. Reed, "I believe he will come over to the Democratic party. If a central government bank measure is passed, and no reform measures are passed at the coming session of Congress, I would not be surprised to read that Senator Cummins had decided to repudiate the G. O. P. forever."

"In this State," declared the editor of an insurgent Republican newspaper at Ottawa, Kans., "we will fight it out within the party. We have the direct primary system here. We believe a majority should rule. If the Republicans of a Congressional district nominate a standpat candidate for Congress he will receive the support of the Republican voters generally. The progressives will keep up their fight, however, and in the succeeding primaries will endeavor to nominate an insurgent candidate. Thus the fight will be kept up until every Republican representative in Congress from Kansas is an insurgent. All we can see in a third party is victory for the Democrats."

While the quoted expressions represent the sentiments of many middle Westerners, they are, nevertheless, was found with Sheriff Da- rom Karnak, Ill., and Belknap, by the Cairo crowd, who went up yesterday afternoon. The crowd overpowered the officer and took the negro from him. After a conference it was decided to bring the prisoner back to this city and lynch him. Sheriff Davis had been fleeing from the mob for 24 hours with the prisoner. Driven from town to town by menacing crowds, the sheriff had taken to the woods with James, but the persistent search of the summary avengers proved effective at last.

Fully a thousand persons went out to find the negro, and when the pursuers arrived in Cairo with their quarry, they were met by a howling mob of 5,000 others bent on slaying the negro.

They marched James directly to the public arch, sweeping the streets like a flock of sheep might tread a narrow lane. Many women were in the crowd and anxious to help do the work.

Sheriff Davis having been foiled in his attempt to hide the negro, pleaded for the life of the prisoner, without avail. When Cairo was reached, Sheriff Davis was taken in charge by a part of the mob, which rushed the negro rapidly to his funeral pyre.

Mob Covers Sixteen Miles.

The mob that chased the sheriff and the negro was so large that it scoured the entire country from Karnak to Vienna, Ill., 16 miles.

When found by the mob, the negro was handcuffed between two officers and all three were lying on the bank of a creek. They were so weak from hunger, exposure and the futile attempt to elude the mob that they were not able to make much resistance.

Sheriff Davis last night said that he deplored the lynching. He had made every possible resistance in his power, but the crowd was so large that he could do absolutely nothing.

SUBSCRIPTION PLAN PROVING A SUCCESS

MANY VOLUNTARILY HANDING IN NAMES WITH AMOUNT GIVEN.

Phillip Miller Feels Highly Encouraged Over Outlook for This Public Highway to Lake.

Since the announcement in The Sun of the new air line route to Newnan's Lake interest is again being revived, and subscriptions are coming in from many of the good road enthusiasts and the business men in general.

It seems that they have realized what such a route would mean to people of the city and visitors who come within our borders, and Mr. Miller, who has one of the lists, states that he thinks the necessary amount can be raised with little difficulty.

While he has been absent from the city and hindered from making a personal canvass, he has been assured of a number of subscriptions which have gone to him at the store, and this he believes is evidence that the people are anxious for the road to be constructed at once.

The purchase of the right-of-way which was surveyed some weeks since is a step that has been freely commented upon, and in many cases the same was given voluntarily by the property owners, for they realized what it would mean for the advancement of their property.

Sometime during the coming week Mr. Miller will take up a personal canvass for subscriptions, and in the meantime he advises all who feel inclined to donate to this public highway to come forward and hand in their names and amounts per mile that they are willing to give.

This plan of building the roadway by a public subscription has met with most favorable comment from all parties, for they say that in this it will be seen just what those most benefited are willing to give, and as the entire undertaking is a free will offering it will be when finished something that the city can refer to with much pride and say that it was a voluntary act upon the part of the liberal hearted citizens of this section.

The advantages that it will give Gainesville as a tourist city are many, for it will then be more generally talked of by those that come within the borders of the city and will quickly spread to all sections of the country.

GRAND JURY'S FALL TERM PRESENTMENT

Give Justices of Peace Usual Rap---Recommendation As to Road Tax, Etc.

The Grand Jury empanelled for the present term of Circuit Court completed their labors Friday, and at noon handed in the following presentment, which was read in open court by Clerk Wienges:

To the Honorable J. T. Wills, Judge Eighth Judicial Circuit of Florida, in and for the County of Alachua:

We, the Grand Jurors for the Fall Term of the Circuit Court, in and for the Eighth Judicial Circuit, Alachua county, Florida, respectfully submit to your Honor, this our presentment:

Upon entering upon our duties as Grand Jurors we did so with the purpose and determination of performing those duties to the best of our knowledge and ability, and we have diligently inquired into the facts of all cases that have been presented to us, and that have come under our observation, and when in our opinion, judging the evidence produced, warranted in finding a true bill, we did so; and where we found that the evidence did not warrant us in finding a bill, we did not find a true bill.

With the assistance of our able State's Attorney we have succeeded in disposing of all cases that have been presented to us.

We find that through the neglect, or carelessness, some of the justices of the peace of our county have not reported cases that have been tried and bound over by them, and in some instances cases that should have been tried and disposed of by them have been sent up to this Grand Jury for investigation, thereby causing the loss of considerable time, and adding additional expense to the State and county.

Therefore, we recommend to the justices of the peace of our county to dispose of all cases within their jurisdiction; and to bind over only a sufficient number of witnesses as required by law.

We also suggest that the justices of the peace use great care in drawing up and approving bonds for appearance before the Grand Jury and the court.

We respectfully recommend that the Board of County Commissioners have the road law strictly enforced, requiring all who have not paid their road tax to work on the public roads as required by law; the strict enforcement of the law would save this county from six to eight thousand dollars annually.

We have carefully examined the county jail and find it in good sanitary condition, and the prisoners perfectly satisfied with the treatment received at the hands of the sheriff.

And now we wish to thank your Honor, our State's Attorney, clerk of this court, sheriff and other court officials for courtesies shown us and able assistance rendered to us in the performance of our duties as Grand Jurors. Respectfully submitted,

THEODORE HARTRIDGE WILLARD,
Foreman Grand Jury.

Gainesville, Fla., November 12, 1909.

Judge Wills complimented the body upon the business like manner in which they had dispatched matters coming before them and thanked them for their attendance, whereupon Capt. T. H. Willard, foreman, verbally thanked Judge Wills, on behalf of himself and coworkers, for the appreciation shown of their labors.

The grand jury was then discharged and dispersed.

Imported Gum Rosin To Be Taxed Twenty Per Cent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—After a deluge of misrepresentations from the naval stores people in the South, the soap manufacturers and other interests in various parts of the country, the question of classification of gum rosin is being given a "tryout" at Philadelphia, where the collector has been notified by the Treasury Department that he can go ahead assessing a duty of 20 per cent on such importations as an article of manufacture not enumerated in the tariff law.

Southern rosin interests claim that wrong classification in the law has been admitting gum rosin, or rosin, from abroad free of duty, to the serious loss of the Southern trade. The collector at Philadelphia assessed gums and gum rosin, natural and uncompounded, but advanced in value or condition by any process or treatment beyond that necessary to the proper packing of the drugs and prevention of decay or deterioration pending manufacture, one-fourth of 1 cent per pound and in addition 10 per cent ad valorem.

The manufacturing interests using rosin sought free admission under section 559 of the free list, which included gum rosin when natural and uncompounded and in the crude state and not advanced in value by any treatment beyond that necessary for preservation, pending manufacture.

The department would not direct a reclassification, but advised the collector that his assessment of ad valorem duty would stand for the present at least.

CASES BEFORE COURT FOR FRIDAY'S SESSION

LARGE NUMBER LIQUOR CASES NOL PROSSED BY STATE.

Four Cases Were Tried by Jury During the Day's Session of Court.

Circuit Court convened on Friday morning with Judge Wills and State Attorney Rivers present, together with the usual number of members of the bar.

The following cases were taken up and disposed of:

State vs. Dick Cathcart, selling whiskey; nol prossed.

State vs. Moore Wright, selling whiskey; nol prossed.

State vs. W. G. Shehee, selling whiskey; nol prossed.

State vs. Isham Stevens and Lou Stevens, selling whiskey; nol prossed.

State vs. James Smith, assault and battery; dismissed upon motion of State attorney.

State vs. Elsie Shanks, assault; dismissed.

State vs. Pate Sims, riding on railroad without permit; verdict of guilty by jury.

State vs. Wm. Nelson, assault and battery; dismissed.

State vs. George Hale, killing animal of another; dismissed.

State vs. W. T. Nattage, concealed weapons; dismissed.

State vs. Albert Jenkins, gambling; dismissed.

State vs. Oscar Johns, assault; dismissed.

State vs. Jim Simons, murder; arraigned and plead not guilty.

State vs. Bezzie George, murder; arraigned and plead not guilty.

State vs. Will Mitchell, grand larceny; plead not guilty, but afterward changed and entered a plea of guilty.

State vs. Wallace Felder, larceny of horse; arraigned and plead not guilty.

Afternoon Session.

At the afternoon session, which convened at a few minutes past 2 o'clock, the criminal docket was taken up, and the afternoon was consumed principally in the trial of liquor cases, four cases having been disposed of.

At the opening of the court in the afternoon session, Cal. Brown, alias Al Brown, a negro against whom a true bill was found by the grand jury, was arraigned, and when State Attorney Rivers asked the defendant if he did not appear before the grand jury under the name of Cal Brown, the prisoner answered in the negative. As a result Attorney Broome, who was appointed by the court to defend the negro, entered a plea of abatement. Brown is charged with assault with intent to murder.

Ben Styles, an aged white man who was arraigned upon a charge of selling liquor in a county which had voted against the sale of same, plead guilty, but asked the indulgence of the court, requesting that sentence be suspended until Monday, as the defendant desired to settle some important business matters at his home, which would probably enable him to pay his fine and satisfy the judgment, whereupon Judge Wills informed him that the court would take the responsibility of releasing him under the same bond, on his honor that he would sell no more liquor pending this plea of guilty.

"I cannot sell any more liquor, your honor, because I have not got any more," was the reply to Judge Wills' admonition, whereupon the defandant was excused until Monday.

Among other liquor cases were the following:

State of Florida vs. Shed Blake, an aged negro; tried by jury and verdict of guilty.

State of Florida vs. Jeff Simons, colored, tried by jury and verdict of not guilty.

State of Florida vs. Jim Mulberry and Frank Floyd, colored. Upon motion a severance in the case was granted, and Mulberry was placed on trial, with the result that the jury, after hearing the evidence, brought in a verdict of guilty.

Court adjourned until 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

but the views of individuals. The probable outcome of the big party split is a problem everyone must work out for himself. It is a question which is not only agitating the smaller political lights through the country, but one that is puzzling the leaders of both parties.

Where Nature Cooks the Food.

In certain parts of New Zealand both native and white women use the natural hot springs to do their cooking. In the Rotorua region, it matters not whether the cook wishes to roast a piece of meat, boil potatoes or steam pudding, all she has to do is to step out of doors and place the cooking utensil in a steam hole. The cover is then put on, and a piece of coarse sacking over the whole completes the operation. In a short time dinner is ready. At Whakarewarewa the entire earth just beneath the surface is a mass of boiling springs. Millions of gallons of hot water hiss and steam, sending vapors skyward in great white clouds. Strike the ground almost anywhere with a stick and the hole thus formed fills with hot water. Hot water for baths, the week's washing and for the ordinary purposes of the household is always on hand.

Hard on the Chairs.

Among the ancestors of Wendell Phillips were several Puritan clergymen. Perhaps it was a push of heredity which made him at five years of age a preacher.

His congregation was composed of circles of chairs arranged in his father's parlor, while a taller chair, with a Bible on it, served him for a pulpit. He would harangue these wooden auditors by the hour.

"Wendell," said his father to him one day, "don't you get tired of this?"

"No, papa," wittily replied the boy preacher, "I don't get tired, but it is rather hard on the chairs."

Obeyed Him.

"Whare's old Four Fingered Pete?" asked Alkali Ike. "I ain't seen him around since I got back."

"Pete?" said the bartender. "Oh, he went up to Hyena Tongue and got jagged. Went up to a hotel winder, stuck his head in and hollered 'Fire!' an' everybody did."—Everybody's Magazine.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT FRIDAY.

W. A. Bryant Suffers Injury While Unloading Government Stone.

W. A. Bryant, who is employed with the heavy hauling department of Crawford & Davis, suffered a painful accident late Friday evening by having his right foot crushed by a slipping stone.

He was upon the car in the act of assisting the workmen in unloading the heavy material, when in some manner a large piece of the material slipped out from its holdings and came down with a sudden crash upon the right foot of the unfortunate man.

With the assistance of the tackle the structure was removed and the party taken to his home, where Dr. Hodges was summoned and announced that some of the bones in the foot had been broken, but he had not made a thorough examination at the time he was seen by a reporter.

The stone which fell upon the foot would weigh probably a ton, and it is a wonder that it was not crushed to a jelly. The numerous friends of the young man are thankful that the accident is no worse.

He will be incapacitated for business for several days, but it is not thought that an amputation of the foot will be necessary.

TO ORGANIZE CHOIR.

Will Organize With About Fifty Voices for Revival.

The members of the Methodist church under the leadership of Miss Harriman will meet this evening at 7:30 for the purpose of organizing a church choir especially for the great revival that will be started here on Sunday morning with Rev. Christian as the evangelist.

Members from all denominations are invited to join and assist in swelling the choir and making it prove of great interest to the meetings and a credit to the good people of the city.

While the evangelist carries with him one of the best singers in the South, it is necessary to have a good large church choir, and the members under Miss Harriman's leadership will add largely to the interest of the meeting.

Let all who can attend the meeting tonight and assist in the great work which will prove a blessing to Gainesville.

MANHATTAN THEATRE CO.

Presents "The Girl and the Gambler" to Good Audience.

The above aggregation of stage artists again pleased a good audience at the New Baird last night, when they presented the play entitled "The Girl and the Gambler," each member performing his or her part in the pleasing manner which has characterized their several appearances in this city. Earl Highley, as "Joe," was as usual a strong feature of the show, and as an imitator of the negro he has no superior on the American stage.

The company will give two performances today, matinee at 2:30, when they present "Woman Against Woman," and tonight at 8:30 in "The Kansmen."

The show is well worth the price of admission and we bespeak for them large audiences at both performances.

"The Servant in the House."

On November 18th at the Baird Theatre the citizens of Gainesville will have the opportunity of witnessing one of the theatrical events of the season, the attraction being "The Servant in the House," which may be briefly described as the highest class and most brilliant written and arranged dramatic classic. The play is out of the ordinary run of present-day dramatic offerings. Its simplicity and the sentiment which crops up in every act and every scene makes its success absolutely dependent upon the quality of the action.

"The Servant In the House" is a drama for all people and all ages, for its truths are universal and eternal, and its emotions and passions are those human beings have had from the beginning and will have until the end of time.

"The Servant In the House" is being presented at the better class of theatres throughout the country to overwhelming business. This is something new, especially for this class of play, but as the adage goes, "there must be cause for the effect."

MISTAKEN ADVICE.

The Tampa Tribune has always been friendly to Hon. Frank Clark, representative in Congress from the second district.

In Mr. Clark's recent course in Congress, when he threw down the gauntlet of defiance at Mr. Bryan's feet, when he repudiated and renounced the Democratic platform and boldly declared for the policy of protection—The Tribune took his part.

That paper now advises Mr. Clark to calm himself—to cut out the forte and give his constituents more of the pianissimo.

The Tribune has come to the belief that pitchfork politics are no more admired; that adjectives, expletives and epithets no longer catch the popular ear.

The Tribune advises Mr. Clark to adorn himself in the "white robes of peace," and carry outstretched in his hand an olive branch.

To do that, in our judgment, Frank Clark will lose his grip. He would immediately fall into commonplace. He would be no more than a dozen or more other Congressmen.

It is the unusual that attracts. We like to behold the volcano in eruption. We like the Napoleonic method of warfare. To whom friend was no friend if he stood in the way of his ambition—to whom all men were but worms, to be used as stepping stones to success. That's what men like.

Without his pitchfork Tillman had still been an obscure farmer; if Tom Watson had dipped his pen in honey instead of vitrol, he would not have been known today outside of his own county.

Say what you please, do what you please, the majority of men like a spirited personal controversy. The hotter it is, the more ginger that can be put into a campaign, the more the voter enjoys it.

John Temple Graves has a magnificent command of language; without exception he is acknowledged to be a beautiful and eloquent speaker, so why has he not succeeded as a politician? Why? Because his writings and his speeches have the odor and fragrance of the flower garden about them. There is no ginger in his speeches—when he writes he mixes honey, not vitrol, in his ink.

Men are not yet angels. They like a little touch of brutality. They like to see the other fellow "ripped up the back." Why was it such an almost impossible task to elect the saintly General Finley to Congress against Mr. Horatio Bisbee, and such an easy matter to elect Mr. Charles Dougherty?

Feminine sweetness, anything that has the fragrance of flowers, the habiliments of peace, don't seem to go in a political campaign. These things refuse to take root in Democratic soil.

Mr. Frank Clark is forceful in epithets, keen in satire, quick in repartee, knows the force of ginger and is a professional in the use of the "pepper box."

When he gives up those weapons, in our opinion, he gives up that which has given him his reputation, and he will take his place in the ranks of the ordinary.

Frank Clark is too accomplished a politician to take The Tribune's advice.—Ocala Banner.

WHAT A CHANGE!

What a change has taken place in the sentiments of leading Republican politicians respecting the disfranchisement of the negro! It hasn't been so very long since they were openly threatening the South with the loss of representation in Congress if she disfranchised the negro. Now so prominent a Republican as Senator Cullom of Illinois is quoted as favoring such disfranchisement.

In a Washington dispatch to The New York Times he is reported as sympathizing with the communities in the South in which the negro is in the majority. In this dispatch he is quoted as saying:

"How can you blame communities like South Carolina and Mississippi, for instance, for voting the Democratic ticket when in some sections the proportion of colored population is ten blacks to one white? It is in communities like these that the white people are afraid."

Senator Cullom's change of base on the question of negro disfranchisement is due, not to sympathy with white people who are threatened with the evils that come from permitting the negro to have the ballot, but to a belief that if all the negroes in the South were disfranchised the Republican party would be the gainer, that many, if not all of the Southern States would become Republican. Some of them, he says, are naturally in favor of protection and their interests would make them Republican. This is what he says:

"Take a State like Alabama, for instance. There is a community which possesses vast coal, iron, and other industries demanding a protective tariff. With her rank States like Tennessee, Texas and others. They all want to be protected industrially, and the people are ready to join us were it not for the negro."

The Senator isn't in favor of disfranchising negroes in all parts of the country. They are a help to the Republican party in States like Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania and others that might be mentioned. He looks with favor upon the disfranchisement of the negro in the Southern States simply because he thinks the Republican party would be benefited by it.

That party gave the negro the ballot because it thought it would be good policy to do so from a party point of view, and now it is willing that the negro shall be disfranchised in the South for the same reason—a party reason. The question with Senator Cullom is not what is best for the negro, not what is best for the white people of the South, not what is best for the country, but what is best for the Republican party. He favors that which will keep the Republican party in power. Surely that isn't a high motive for a statesman to be controlled by.

But isn't Senator Cullom mistaken in assuming that if the negroes in the South were disfranchised with the approval of the Federal Government the Southern States, or at least the majority of them, would become Republican? In about all of the Southern States the negro is practically disfranchised now by State laws, and yet the movement towards the Republican party in the South doesn't seem to be very marked. There is a pretty big chance that Senator Cullom is mistaken. The Southern people are Democratic from principle, and it is a safe prediction that they will remain so long after the Illinois Senator has passed from the state of activity, says The Savannah News.

They used to be satisfied with money and jewelry, but, goaded by the increasing cost of living, train robbers are becoming more and more rapacious. The hold-up of a milk and egg train on the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound is reported.

BROWN IS HERE—AND BUSY.

What has become of our old friend and Tampa's great booster, Col. J. Laud Brown? Is it possible that he has been "thrown overboard" by the powers that be, after what he has done for the Cigar City? Col. Brown did more for Tampa's interests in his own way during four years than all the "wind-jammers" will accomplish in forty. He deserves better treatment than being "shelved," and we hope soon to hear that his work for Tampa in the past is being recognized in a substantial way.—Gainesville Sun.

Brown's in town, Brother McCreary, and very much in evidence, as you will see by reading the local papers carefully. He is up to his old tricks again—boosting Tampa and South Florida, in which capacity he has no superior. He has not been thrown overboard, and will not be—he's a good fellow, and we need him in our business. Tampa is not ungrateful—she always rewards men who work in her behalf.—Tampa Times.

We are glad to hear it, Bro. McKay, for if any man deserves well at the hands of Tampa that man is Col. Brown.

The standing reward of fifty dollars for the conviction of persons charged with the illicit selling of whiskey is nothing more nor less than a premium on perjury. No man in the State is more opposed to the illicit sale of whiskey than the editor of The Sun, but we are opposed to this premium on perjury. The county commissioners should refuse to pay these rewards when claim is made therefor, and let this unconstitutional law be set aside in this circuit, as it was in Judge Bullock's circuit.

Thanksgiving turkeys are very scarce in the Gainesville market at present.

Mothers find Perry Davis' Painkiller invaluable in the nursery, and it should be kept at hand in case of accident. For pain in the breast take a little Painkiller in sweetened milk and water, bathing the breast in it clear at the same time. If the milk passages are clogged, from cold, or other causes, bathing in the Painkiller will give immediate relief. Ask for New 35c bottle.

DIVING FOR COINS.

The Natives of Madeira Are Experts at the Business.

As we drew in and came to anchor we saw descending upon us a fleet of small, curious boats filled with half naked men. We suspected now that Madeira was a cannibal island and prepared for the worst. It was not quite as bad as that. They merely wanted us to throw coins over into the liquid azure which they call water in this country, whereupon their divers would try to intercept the said coins somewhere between the top and bottom of the sea. We didn't believe they could do it, but we tried and, as usual, found that the other fellow knew his own game better than we did.

If those amphibians did not always get the coins they generally did. They could see them perfectly in that amazing water, and they could dive like seals. Some of the divers were mere children—poor, lean creatures who stood up in their boats and shouted and implored and swung their arms in a wild invitation to us to fling our money overboard. But they did not want small money—at least not very small money. They declined to dive for pennies. Perhaps they could only distinguish the gleam of the white metal. Let a nickel or a dime be tossed over and two or three were after it in a flash, while a vehement outbreak of Portuguese from all the rest entreated still further largess. It was really a good show, and, being the first of its kind, we enjoyed it.—Albert Bigelow Paine in Outing Magazine.

Meaning of the Green Bough.

The custom of placing a green bough on the roof of a newly built house is not confined to Germany, but was adopted by the French Canadians, who brought it with them from Brittany. The custom originated from the superstition prevalent centuries ago that every tree is inhabited by a spirit; consequently it was believed that every time a tree was felled another spirit was dispossessed, and this was supposed to cause some bitterness on his part against society. Rather than risk having these homeless and disgruntled spirits vent their ill feeling upon the houses under construction or upon the builders a branch was planted on the highest part of the house for their occupancy. They were then supposed to be mollified, and if they remained so until the roof was put on any evil design contemplated would prove harmless, for the spell would be broken.—Van Norden's Magazine.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

(By J. E. Jacobson.)

Our football team will leave here Sunday morning for Orlando, where they will play Rollins College on Monday afternoon. We feel confident of success, as our boys have picked up considerably and are in better condition than ever before. The line-up will probably be as follows: Left end, Moody or McCormick; left tackle, Waggner; left guard, McMillan; center, Storter; right guard, Cox; right tackle, Rader; right end, Johnston, quarter-back, Adgerton or Pile; right-half, Taylor; full-back, Vidal or Tenny; left-half, Taylor.

Coach Pile went over to Jacksonville Friday to see the Olympic-Stetson game.

The University of Florida offers correspondence courses in agriculture for all white citizens of the State. These courses are designated to meet the needs of the following classes:
1. Teachers and prospective teachers.
2. Farmers and prospective farmers.
3. Farmers' wives, sons and daughters.
4. Others who may be interested.
Pass the good word along.

It is not generally known in the State that the Chamber of Commerce of Pensacola recently subscribed enough money to pay all the expenses of ten farmers of Escambia county in the three months' short course in agriculture at the University of Florida, the expense to include railroad fare, books and board for three scholastic months beginning November 9th. A thorough and practical course has been arranged for these ten representatives of Escambia county. We believe that this course, briefly outlined below, will appeal to a large number of farmers and farmers' boys, and that many of them will enter within a short time. A warm welcome awaits all who may desire to take advantage of the course here presented. The term is divided into two divisions of six weeks each. The first six weeks will be devoted to class-room and laboratory; beginning with the principles of agriculture and thoroughly studying horticulture, plant propagation, soils, injurious insects, agricultural chemistry and fertilizers; agricultural engineering, farm machinery and farm motors; interpretation and use of agricultural bulletins. Second six weeks: Class-room and laboratory work; crops and seed judging, horticulture, orchard management, soils, application of fertilizers to special crops; animal industry, field experimenting, agricultural engineering, roads and drainage, and agricultural research. In connection with the regular class work a number of lectures have already been provided for.

Capt. Lynch, Professor of Secondary Education, inaugurated an educational campaign, the object of which is to advocate the election of better trained teachers, longer terms, not less than one high school of senior grade in each county, and the introduction of teaching of home economics, and agriculture. Similar campaigns are being carried on in Virginia, North and South Carolina, and the latest and most important one is in Tennessee.

Dr. Murphree, accompanied by Dr. Blackman, President of Rollins College, visited and made speeches at West Palm Beach, Silver Palm, Dania and Miami, in the interest of the educational campaign, which is meeting with such great approval everywhere.

Prof. Rolfs is in the western part of the State, holding meetings at farmers' institutes, where great interest is shown.

The Press Club had the honor of hearing Dr. Farr, who made an eloquent as well as profitable address on "Journalism."

The University has a fine start this year, the enrollment being an increase of about sixty per cent over that of last year. The increase is mainly in the Sophomore and Freshman classes.

There are about 160 students registered at present, including 30 law students.

The law department is something new this year. Dean Farrah, formerly in charge of the law department of Stetson University, has charge of this department, and is meeting with great success.

The exhibits of the University at the Tri-County Fair, at Pensacola, attracted great attention.

It's a Crime

To neglect your health. The worst neglect that you can be guilty of is to allow constipation, biliousness or any liver or bowel trouble to continue. It is poisoning your entire system and may lead to a serious chronic disease. Take Ballard's Herbine and get absolutely well. The sure cure for any and all troubles of the stomach, liver and bowels. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

12 QUART CASE WHISKEY For $5 Only

We ship full 32 ounce quarts—not 16 ounce pint bottles.

Our Offer: Send us $5.00 and we will ship you a case of Druggists' Extra Special Distillation Whiskey in 12 full 32 ounce quart bottles, (not 16 ounce pint bottles) to your nearest express station, without marks to betray contents. It is fine straight whiskey (no spirits, no compound, no blend, no imitation whiskey—nothing but straight whiskey.)

Only 500 Cases to be sold at this Price

Full 32-Ounce Quarts—not 16-ounce pint bottles

(5 Premium Coupons, worth 50c, sent in each case)

Druggists' Extra Special Distillation Whiskey is put up for the Drug Trade in the Prohibition States, where a large demand for a pure, high grade whiskey exists. We are informed that the retail druggists usually sell it over the counter at $1.50 per bottle. This whiskey is pure, conscientiously distilled, guaranteed under National Pure Food and Drugs Act of June 30th, 1906, and is intended only for physicians' prescription purposes. We refer to Atlantic National and Barnett National Banks of our city and refund money to all dissatisfied customers just as cheerfully as it was received. (People who object to the word distilling can result to our Manager, R. O. Strope.)

A PET MONKEY.

His Pranks With an Author's Manuscripts and Decorations.

A Paris contemporary dealing with the love of great men for animals gives an amusing account of Chateaubriand and his monkey. When he was engaged in preparing Fontanes' works for the press, on returning one day he was met by his monkey.

"Ah, you rogue," said Chateaubriand "your shamefaced look tells of mischief." The monkey was chained up, but as things did not appear much disturbed Chateaubriand thought no more of the matter until it was time to resume work. Fontanes' manuscripts were not to be found.

At last Chateaubriand looked into the waste paper basket, and there were the manuscripts. The monkey had watched his master, and as he had seen him fold a sheet of paper and tear it into four, so he had dealt with Fontanes' writings. With much labor they were pieced together and afterward published.

Chateaubriand thought it advisable to see what else the monkey had done. His orders had disappeared from a drawer which was always kept closed. The servants searched everywhere for them, but they were not to be found. Nearly a week elapsed before they were traced, and then a domestic noticed that the monkey had suspended them to the cornice in a quasi-symmetrical way.

The monkey was given his conge, and Chateaubriand replaced him by a cat, which was allowed a place on his master's writing table, and great was the pleasure which he derived in playing with puss.

A Short Lived Club.

One of the most short lived clubs ever formed was the Club des Laideurs—club for ugly women—organized by the Princess Pauline Metternich, who was an elegant woman, but so ugly that she used to call herself "a white monkey." Perhaps she felt lonesome. Anyhow, she tried to gather some of the other women she knew who were not blessed with good looks into a club. But the club proved unpopular and died a natural death. The princess got back at her women acquaintances by remarking that if there were any candor in them her club would be overcrowded.

AWFUL RASH ALL OVER BOY'S BODY

Weeping Eczema Kept Spreading on Little Sufferer—A Score of Treatments Prove Dismal Failures—Grateful Father Tells of

CURE ACHIEVED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"It gives me great pleasure to express my deep gratitude in appreciation of the incalculable benefit that the Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent did my little boy. He had an awful rash all over his body and the doctor said it was eczema. It was terrible and used to water awfully. Any place the water went it would form another sore and it would become crusted. A score or more physicians failed utterly and dismally in their efforts to remove the trouble. Then I was told to use the Cuticura Remedies. I got a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, and before we had used half the Resolvent I could see a change in him. In about two months he was entirely well. When people see him now they ask, 'What did you get to cure your baby?' and all we can say is, 'It was the Cuticura Remedies.' So in us Cuticura will always have firm and warm friends. George F. Lambert, 139 West Centre St., Mahanoy City, Pa., September 26 and November 4, 1907."

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE

Rely on Cuticura Remedies.

Millions of the world's best people use Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, assisted, when necessary, by Cuticura Resolvent (liquid or pills) for preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, for eczemas, irritations and inflammations, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for baby rashes, itchings and chafings, and many sanative, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women, as well as for all the purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery. Guaranteed absolutely pure.

Cuticura Soap (25c.), Ointment (50c.), Resolvent (50c.), and Chocolate Coated Pills (25c.), are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem Corp., Sole Props., 137 Columbus Ave., Boston

TELEPHONE TALKS

The Long Distance System

One of the most valuable features of our service, to our subscribers and to the public generally, is our connection with the extensive long distance lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the other associated Bell Telephone companies.

We own thousands of miles of long distance lines in the seven States in which we operate and in addition can connect any telephone in our system with lines extending to any other city in which a Bell Telephone system is operated.

These long distance lines are of the most modern and improved construction and are maintained at a high state of efficiency. The Bell systems operating in various sections of the country, are uniform in their equipment and in their methods of operating.

Only by reason of this close traffic arrangement between the Bell Telephone companies is it possible to go to a Bell Telephone almost anywhere ask for "Long Distance" and be put in communication with almost any point in the country.

This vast network of wires, radiating throughout the nation, is used daily in commerce and for social purposes by the banker, the farmer and citizens in all walks of life and our plant here is an important link in this great chain.

GAINESVILLE,

—THE—

University City.

Gainesville is conceded to be the most enterprising as well as the most beautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by lands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops; in the heart of the truck-growing, phosphate and naval stores belt. She has the best educational advantages in the State, good churches, with edifices which are superior to any town of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. All these natural advantages, combined with a progressive and enterprising cosmopolitan citizenship, are sure to make a big city.

There are many natural attractions in close proximity to the city, some of which are Alachua Sink, Paine's Prairie, the Devil's Mill Hopper, Warren's Cave, and Lake Newnan, all of which are reached by private conveyance

Spring Park Stock Farm, the largest and finest live stock farm in the State, is only eight miles west of the city and is reached by a good hard road, affording a most pleasant drive.

The farmers of Alachua county, of which Gainesville is the county seat, "live at home and board at the same place." The temperature is very uniform, scarcely ever reaching the nineties in summer or the twenties in winter. The population of Gainesville is about eight thousand, representing nearly every nationality on the face of the earth, and strangers always meet with a hearty welcome.

The University of Florida for young men and the National Agricultural Experiment Station are located within the corporate limits of the city. In fact, Gainesville has so many things that we must be pardoned if we omit a few of them in the following enumeration of what

The Old Story That Is Ever New

Weddings and rumors of weddings make us think of Cut Glass and Silver and Handsome Vases.

We have a beautiful line of all of these.

Come in and see those pretty Cut Glass Bowls at only $3 and $3.50 each, and Olive Dishes, Oil Bottles, Vases, etc, at proportionately low prices.
